

NEW MEXICO ANIMAL RESOURCES GUIDE

Compiled and produced by
Animal Protection of New Mexico
Aug 2015

Animal Protection of New Mexico, Inc. (APNM) has been advocating for the humane treatment of animals since 1979. APNM is a nonprofit, 501 (c)(3) organization supported by donations, volunteers, and grants. APNM accomplishes its work through education and outreach and campaigns for change. Our legislative arm, Animal Protection Voters (APV), lobbies on behalf of animals and holds elected officials accountable. See more at apnm.org and apvnm.org. The New Mexico Animal Resources Guide is provided as a comprehensive reference guide for animal-related agencies, organizations, and law enforcement throughout New Mexico.

Note: Inclusion in this Guide does not reflect any particular endorsement by APNM of the organizations or individuals listed.

Animal Protection of New Mexico

Making Sure Animals Matter in Every New Mexican Community.

Animal Protection of New Mexico (APNM) is a statewide nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization. Since 1979, APNM has been advocating for animals by effecting systemic change, working towards the humane treatment of all animals. This includes active support of local and state legislation towards the prevention of animal cruelty, as well as public awareness campaigns designed to teach students and communities across New Mexico about the ongoing threats to animals.

What else is possible with your participation?

What began as a small, dedicated group of residents concerned about the unmet needs of animals has grown into an influential organization that is making a noticeable difference for New Mexico's animals and the communities in which they live. We are responsible for the passage of dozens of laws to protect animals in the state (apnm.org/accomplishments), while dramatically raising the visibility of issues New Mexico's animal population regularly faces.

APNM accomplishes its goals through education and outreach, as well as campaigns for change, working with other dedicated individuals, agencies, and organizations throughout New Mexico communities. Our legislative arm, Animal Protection Voters (apvnm.org), lobbies on behalf of animals and holds elected officials accountable. And through the Equine Protection Fund, we provide leadership and assistance to help the thousands of horses throughout the state threatened by abuse or neglect.

As a nonprofit organization, APNM depends upon donations, volunteers, and grants to continue its mission. Please become a member and get active for animals TODAY.

"Common decency dictates that we not harm others, just because we can. More and more, people are beginning to understand that the call for compassionate and humane treatment of all animals is a call for restoring our own dignity. This is the pure and simple message that animal liberation results in human liberation."

-Lisa Jennings, Executive Director, APNM
